ROUND UP

CONGRATULATIONS!

CF@LANTA RDP CENTER GRANT
SUBMITTING FEB 2021

Two CF-AIR members received recognition at the 2020 Pediatric Institute Faculty & Staff Awards on Nov 12. Dr. Jay Freeman won the "Clinical Innovations in Clinical Program Development Award" for his Advanced Pancreatic Care Program. Dr. Ajay Kasi was awarded "Teacher of the Year –Subspecialty Pediatrics." Congratulations!

GEORGIA CF CORE CENTER SERVICES

The Georgia CF Core Center grant focuses on non-pulmonary aspects of CF and how these impact pulmonary aspects of disease.

This grant includes three research Cores:

1. Diabetes, GI/Liver, and Nutrition Core
2. Lifestyles & Behavior Core
3. Clinical Research and Informatics Core

Interested? Check out our REDCap Survey at www.cfatl.org/for-researchers

On February 17, 2021, CF-AIR will submit to the CF Foundation a proposal to renew the "Research Development Program" (RDP) grant, that was our first infrastructure grant, awarded in 2015. This proposal focuses entirely on the pulmonary complications of CF and has a theme of "The Systems Ecology of the CF Lung." We will soon be reaching out for biosketches relating to this submission. Email lilly.meier@emory.edu with questions.
